

For immediate release May 28, 2013

Heartland Security wins 2012 Great Lakes Region Security Pro Dealer of the Year.

For the second time in the past four years, Heartland Security was awarded dealer of the year by Interlogix Global Security Products. The award was announced in May of 2013 at the Interlogix dealer conference in Palm Springs, CA.

Present to accept the award was Heartland's General Manager, Guy Adams, and Field Operations Manager, Rod Elbert. Adams said that his entire staff is the reason for the award. "This achievement is only accomplished by having a great team focused on doing what is best for our customers and our company."

Grant Copple, Interlogix USA Sales Manager presented the award to Heartland Security for being "a strong company with a dedicated and hardworking manager and team. Heartland Security grew 28% in 2012 based on a strong video focus and an aggressive expansion strategy.

We are proud to be named Dealer of the Year again for 2012, and look forward to accomplishing great things for our customers as advancing technologies allow us to offer new services and types of protection.

Heartland Security is owned locally by Freeborn-Mower Cooperative Services and remains focused on delivering world-class security, safety, and lifestyle products and services to residential and commercial customers. Freeborn-Mower Cooperative's CEO, Jim Krueger reflecting on the cooperatives ownership of Heartland Security states "Our association with Heartland Security enhances our mission of improving the quality of life in our region and demonstrates another aspect of service to our members."

For more information about Heartland Security, its products and services, please visit our website www.heartlandss.com or call 888-264-6380.